Gogte Institute of Technology:
Career Opportunities for B.Sc (Hons) Programme

Understandably, not everyone wants the same career. Some students choose the course out of necessity or simply because of bad judgment or based on market demand. Sometimes, pressure from parents and peers also plays a role in choosing a career. If children choose a career according to the wishes of their parents and peers, they will have a boring academic life as they would face a lack of interest. It is the interest of the student and scope of the course should determine the career choice decisions for an individual's career. However, what to do after completing PUC Science with PCM is an immediate question. In this article, I would like to highlight the B.Sc. (Hons) course, which is a right blend of science and engineering courses. B.Sc. (Hons) program is affiliated to Vivesvaraya Technological University, Belagavi.

What is a BSc (Hons) programme?

A Bachelor of Science (Hons) is a degree in which a student majors in a specific discipline. Students are required to have mastery in one subject. Additionally, students will study skill-based and industry-relevant subjects from engineering science disciplines such as electrical, mechanical, civil, electronics and computer science. Emerging fields like Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, Data Science, Python, Internet of Things etc. are also part of the curriculum.

Why BSc (Hons)?

B.Sc (Hons) is considered academically and professionally superior to general B.Sc. BSc Honors is a 4-year undergraduate program covering various subjects in science like Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, Biology, Agriculture, Computer Science etc. The program includes research projects and research internships in their 2nd, 3rd and 4th years.

Poem by Abhishek Haibatti, 4th semester, Computer Science Engineering Department

" GLOOMY EYES "

I have seen your gloomy eyes, in the mist of light.

Smiling the pain, in the haze of my heart.

Winding open the memory casket, that long lay shut.

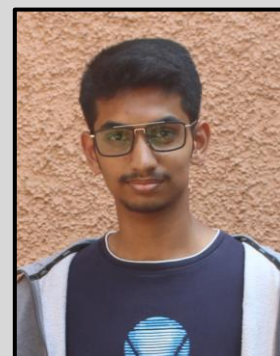

Lit up the darkness in the trenches of my heart.

Wounds too deep, screams too loud,
And the violent symphony of the ghostly nights.

I have seen your gloomy eyes
As they cast their gaze into mine,
Pleading the freedom of the torture.
I've seen your gloomy eyes
Sending shivers down my spine
As I lay you down in your final rest.

Seen them I have, as I laid your body in the soil.

See them I do,
Lamenting my deeds.
As the ghosts of past convict me
Of my ghastly deeds.
